ASSOCIATED PRESS RESUME ON DAY BEFORE

SOCIETY WOMEN TAKE LESSONS
IN ACTIVE RED CROSS WORK

SOCIETY WOMEN STUDY NURSING

An extension of American Red Cross work in New York has been made in the installation of a school for teaching first aid and nursing. Fifty pupils, including many women prominent in society, as well as women who work during the daytime and take the course at night, have already matriculated.

The school, which is in charge of Miss F. Farley and Miss Evelyn Oliver, graduate nurses, offers a curriculum of home care of the sick, first aid to the injured, home dietetics and surgical supplies. The purpose of the schooling is to fit the students as nurses' aids, many of them having already pledged themselves for military hospital work in the event of war in this country. None will be sent abroad.

The committee in charge of the new nurses' school consists of Mrs. Margaret Cameron, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. John A. Hartwell, Mrs. William K. Draper, Mrs. C. V. Twiss, Mrs. Guy Scull, Miss Alice Smith, Mrs. George E. Brewer, Mrs. George Brumenthal, Miss Mary Parsons and Mrs. Bayrd Cutting. Picture shows a class of society women learning the care of the sick. At the left is Miss Farley.

British were compelled to give up portions by them.

Similarly the French lines were attacked, and Paris states that while the Germans were held on the line between Sully-Saillies and St. Pierre Vaast Wood, they were able to recapture some positions in the wood and in the village of Sully-Saillies, just to the north.

Bucharest announces a Roumanian victory in Dobrudja. Roumanian troops are declared to have taken the offensive north of Hirsova and driven von Mackensen's troops from several villages, which were set on fire as they were evacuated.

Berlin, in a lengthy official statement today regarding the fighting on the Somme front, declares that yesterday's operations consisted of a thrust of the most powerful character by the British and French along a twelve mile front, but that it accomplished nothing except for a small gain for the French in the St. Pierre Vaast Wood. The Germans captured about 400 prisoners and 11 machine guns.

Regarding the fighting on the Roumanian frontier, Berlin reports gains southwest of Predeal and southeast of Rothernthrum Pass.

The Roumanians were repulsed in attacks in the Szurdok Pass region and lost a total of more than 450 men in prisoners in the day's fighting.

The Roumanian advance in the Jiu Valley, where pursuit of the Austro-German forces has been going on for several days, has been checked, the German forces having received reinforcements, according to Bucharest.

DUTCH BUILDERS
FEEL THE PINCH

(Associated Press Cable.) Amsterdam, Netherlands, November 6.—Dutch shipbuilders and the entire metal industry have been much disquieted by the recent restriction of German exports of iron and steel Political Conditions Prevailing Throughout the Nation, in the Opinion of Disinterested Experts, Render Dependable Forecasts and Predictions Impossible.

INDICATIONS ARE THAT RESULTS HINGE
ON VOTE IN SEVEN "PIVOTAL" STATES

Rival Party Managers Claim all Doubtful States and by Almost the Same Figures.

On the eve of election political leaders of the two great parties in virtually every state have issued statements that the party they represent will win.

Never before has there seemed to be such a divergence of opinion and feeling of uncertainty throughout the nation over the result of a presidential election.

Only in the so-called solid South is there any unanimity of opinion as to the result of the national election, and even here there is a wide difference as to the result of the votes for state offices in a number of states.

The center of the battle seems to be about the result in Ohio, New York, Indiana and Illinois, with both parties claiming all of them, and a peculiar feature of the pre-election claims is that leaders of the opposite sides seem to think their respective candidates will defeat their opponents by about the same vote.

The Republicans made a more spirited fight than usual in Tennessee, Florida and North Carolina, and assert their belief that they will materially reduce the Democratic presidential vote in those states and will make gains in the state and congressional tickets. This, of course, the Democrats refuse to concede.

Pennsylvania seems today to be virtually conceded to Hughes, and the remainder of the Republican ticket, although claims by the Democrats foretell large gains for that ticket in the state and national contests.

Delaware is claimed by both sides, and the contest still is being hotly waged there today.

In Illinois both sides claim the national ticket will win by 150,000, while the Republicans assert their belief that the Republican gubernatorial candidate will be seated by the same plurality, and the Democrats claim the election of governor by 75,000.

One of the heaviest votes ever cast in Ohio is predicted, with both sides claiming the presidential victory by 100,000. Both parties also claim the election of governor and United States Senator by varying pluralities. Kentucky is claimed by both sides, as is Michigan, with the probability in the latter of a Republican victory by a safe majority.

Massachusetts is listed by both parties in their respective columns, and Vermont is conceded to the Republicans.

Indiana, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma are claimed by Republicans and Democrats alike, while in the latter state the Socialists assert they will outvote the two older parties.

Connecticut looks like a close race, with both sides claiming the lead by narrow majorities.

New York is the scene of a hot battle, with Republican forecasts telling of a victory upstate that will return their whole party ticket a winner, while the Democrats are asserting the New York city vote will be so overwhelming for Wilson and the rest of their ticket that it will overcome any advantage gained in the up-state precincts.

Maryland is conceded to be a close fight, with both sides claiming the advantage.

The New England states are claimed by the Hughes followers, and their forecasts seem to be more strongly supported than are those of their opponents.

The Republicans assert they will carry Wilson's home state, New Jersey, by a safe majority, and the Democrats say they will win, although their claims are to a smaller victory than forecast for Hughes.

North Dakota is listed by the Republicans as certain, while the Democrats assert they have a fighting chance there.

Minnesota and Wisconsin are said to be doubtful, with both sides asserting victory, while throughout the West, where the women's vote is a material factor, both sides are holding to their previous claims of victory.

Socialists in Wisconsin assert they will have a very heavy vote, and that they expect to seat at least two congressmen.

In Holland now that a part of the Dutch cargo space has been acquired by the Allies.

In view of the difficulties described, and the anticipated scarcity of iron and steel materials, the Industrial Commission has approached the Minister of Industry and Commerce with a view to the erection of a State distribution bureau in this country and hope is cherished that the threatened dangers will be warded off.

ELECTION RETURNS

No effort has been spared to give the people of Washington C. H. and Fayette county the result of the elections the instant the result is obtainable.

The Herald has unrivaled facilities for getting the news from the nation, the state and the county. A special Associated Press wire in the office will bring the news of the election results from every state in the union, local and long distance phones will bring in the news of the balloting nearer home. Every item of election news from near and from far will reach The Herald office instantly.

The provisions for tabulating the news and giving it to the public as soon as it is received are no less thorough and complete.

The big canvass will be in its place in front of the old Herald office, on Court street, and the story of the election—item by item—will be flashed on the screen for the benefit of the public.

Watch the big screen election night for all election news.

MANIFESTO IS READ TO THE POLES

Kaiser and Franz
Joseph Give Freedom to Poland.

Warsaw, Poland, Sunday, November 5, via London, November 6.—The manifesto of Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph calling into existence the ancient kingdom of Poland was read to assembled Polish representatives here today in the royal palace.

Under the manifesto, a Polish army is to be formed to fight with the armies of the Central Powers, and it is reported that hundreds of volunteers have already offered their services.

It is related that as far as a person unfamiliar with the language could judge, there seemed to be a feeling of genuine enthusiasm among the Poles who attended the reading of the Manifesto.

The manifesto provides that a "national state with an hereditary monarchy and a constitutional government will be formed of the Polish districts conquered by our brave armies from Russian domination."

RATE INCREASE IS SCHEDULED

Central Freight Association is Preparing a Big Boost Scale.

(Associated Press Dispatch.) Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—Railroad officials here admitted today that the roads represented by the Central Freight Association, covering Ohio, Indiana, and parts of Illinois, New York, and Pennsylvania, have prepared new freight tariffs, to become effective December 1 unless postponed by the Inter State Commerce Commission, in which many schedules are increased.

The new tariffs, which in some cases amount to an increase of 173 percent over those now in effect, will affect shipments made by manufacturers and producers of groceries, furniture, clothing, and farm commodities.

The larger increases are in rates for distances not exceeding 65 miles, which are claimed by the roads to be abnormally low. Six classes of rates are affected.

WILSON FAVORS
CIVIL SERVICE
FOR POSTMASTERS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, Nov. 6.—President Wilson declared himself as favoring legislation for the appointment of postmasters of all classes through competitive civil service examination in a letter to the National Civil Service Reform League made public today.

Last week Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President endorsed such legislation.

CONVENTION PLANS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., November 6.—Preparations are about completed for the convention of the Sunrise Christian Endeavor Union, to be held in Old Stone Church, November 10, 11 and 12. It is expected that at least 1,500 delegates will be in attendance at the sessions.

National leaders of the Christian Endeavor will address the meetings, among them being Dr. Campbell White, president of Wooster College, and Stanley B. Vandersdall, general secretary of the Ohio Christian Endeavor and editor of the Ohio Endeavor.

CANDIDATES
SPEND QUIET
DAY IN REST

Both President Wilson and Chas. E. Hughes Have Said the "Last Word" and Are Confident of Victory at the Polls Tomorrow.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, Nov. 6.—President Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, candidate for president, remained quietly at their homes today recuperating from the labors of the long campaign.

The last word sent forward by them to the people was an expression that each felt confident of victory.

President Wilson planned to remain quietly at home today, and his only activity tomorrow will be a trip to Princeton to cast his vote.

Tomorrow night, with only the members of his family about him, he will receive the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn.

Mr. Hughes remained at his hotel early in the forenoon, but later visited the National Republican headquarters to thank the workers there for their efforts.

He intended to take a drive through the parks this afternoon and spend the rest of the day quietly at his hotel.

Tomorrow he will vote in his home district here and tomorrow night, only the immediate members of his family with him, he will receive the returns in his hotel rooms.

Political headquarters here still presented scenes of activity today as the final instructions were sent out and reports received.

Both chairmen had little to add to their forecasts issued Saturday night.

Republican Chairman Willcox said today that "it was all over but the shouting," and predicted Hughes would have at least 100 majority in the electoral college.

Democratic Chairman McCormick predicts 364 electoral votes for Mr. Wilson.

The larger participation of women as voters in a presidential campaign and the congressional election are of keen interest to politicians generally.

Fair weather and moderate temperature is forecasted generally for election day, and if this prediction holds true a full vote is expected throughout the country.

INVESTIGATION

Chicago, Nov. 6.—An order for "an immediate and thorough investigation of the high cost of living" was received here today by the local bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice.

Similar orders, it was said, have been sent to other bureaus throughout the country.

They mention specifically the cost of milk, wheat, canned foods, foodstuffs, and coal. Twenty investigators will begin work here Wednesday

CONDITION OHIO CROPS AND STOCK

The per cent of wheat sown for crop of 1917 is shown to be practically the same as that seeded for 1916 crop. Wheat seeding was generally very late, owing to dry weather and as a precaution against fly. The plant is small and irregular, and in some late sown fields there is yet no appearance of plant. It has been too dry for favorable growth in some parts and the indications now are that the plant will go into winter short of growth and tender in condition. Moisture is badly needed to help wheat growth and strength. Corn prospect does not compare well with an average. Husking has been slow on account of dry weather.

Acreage of rye is not quite up to last fall's seeding. This is the first report of the year estimating the potato product in bushels. That there is a short crop is evident. Last year the average production was 73 bushels, with a total of 7,014,256 bushels. The average per acre for the present crop is 42 bushels with a total of 3,540,502 bushels. Hogs are not plentiful. The quite general practice is to put them in fair shape and send to market early. Feed is scarce and high and many are going to market in an unfinished condition. Cholera is reported from many counties. Live stock generally in fair condition, although feed is not overabundant and water low. Why churn butter when cream is so high. Best cash returns at J. A. Long Company, Cor. Main St. and East St.

DENOUNCE APPEAL TO AUTO OWNERS

Many Fayette County auto owners Saturday morning received a postal card purporting to come from the "publicity committee, Ohio State Automobile Association," urging the auto owner to vote for Willis "If you don't want to pay a double tax on your automobile," etc. Not only has former president of the Association, Charles James, denounced the postal message as a rorback and not authorized by the Ohio Automobile Association, but the Democratic State Committee has issued notice that "I. A. Gorrill," who signed the card, is not connected with the Association, but is an employee in the office of Republican State Chairman Hatfield. It is expected that the Ohio Automobile Association will immediately issue a denunciation of the alleged rorback, as a large number of auto owners are threatening to withdraw from the Association unless the wrong is righted.

FROM FRONT BORDER DUTY

Major Rell G. Allen Writes Hurriedly Some of His Experiences on Riding the Border.

Mr. Chas. Allen of this city is in receipt of a letter from Major Rell G. Allen now with the troops on the border.

The letter is an interesting glimpse into the life of the border troops and the only regret is that it is not longer.

"Anapra New Mexico.
November 1, 1916.

Mr. Chas. Allen,
Washington C. H., Ohio.

"My Dear Chas.:-

"It is rather late in the day but I will take time from my regular duties to write you knowing you would enjoy the life we are leading just now.

"Generally after I have written my duty letters and to my near at home family I have exhausted all of my spare time which you know in the field, is limited.

"The 4th is one of the crack regiments and Company M and Capt. Hardway are a very important part of it.

"My entire Battalion together with a troop of Cavalry 84 strong from S. Carolina are encamped west of El Paso and are patrolling about 20 miles of the border about two and one half miles back of the line.

The country along our line is very broken for five or six miles, after that it is flat and covered with weeds sagebrush etc. M Company is camped at the east end of the line and within 200 yards of the border.

"We have seen a number of Mexican patrols up close to the line. No shots have been fired by us as yet. My orders read "no unnecessary firing will be permitted."

"I was disappointed I could not get home for the election but do not think I will be forgotten.

"I will also have to miss the Horse Sale which I regret because I have worked in all of them before.

"Don't forget to send me a Catalogue as I want to see what it looks like. My horse, (I have named him "Billie" in honor of Billie Paul) is certainly a dandy, full of ginger all the time.

"I average thirty-five to forty miles in the saddle per day, going from one company to another along the line, yesterday I made fifty miles and this morning he was as keen as ever; he is still fat. One day I made fifty miles from 10 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. with an hour and a half out for mess and muster of a company, that some going in the sand. We feed oats and alfalfa and have to watch for water stations.

"Well taps have sounded and I have to be on duty at 6 a. m. tomorrow so I will turn in to dream not of how to get votes, but how to be on the line when the "Greasers" come over hallowing "Death to the Gringos" (that's us).

"Well, will tell you all about it when we get home.

Yours,
RELL G. ALLEN.

CHECK TO ARCHER HAS LONG JOURNEY

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., November 6.—State Treasurer Archer this week received a check dated July 27, 1916, which had been in the hands of postal authorities of this country and England for the past three months. The check was mailed at Damascus, Columbia county, by A. R. Dilzell, under the pay-patient law and was intended for the treasurer of the state, but through an error was enclosed with a letter addressed to a man in Germany. The outer envelope was addressed to Bialystock thus confusing three pieces of mail.

According to a letter from the state department at Washington, the mail was sent to London, England, and there opened by the censors, where it was discovered that part of the enclosure was intended for the treasurer of Ohio and part for a person in Berlin. Both enclosures were opened and after an examination the check for Treasurer Archer was turned over to the American Embassy at London by the British Foreign office. The State Department says that the other enclosure was permitted to proceed to Berlin. The American Embassy at London forwarded the check to Washington, which in turn forwarded it to its proper destination.

HAYS HOMESTEAD DESTROYED TODAY

Large Farm Residence Owned By Miss Dora Hays, of This City,
Quickly Reduced to Ashes By Early Morning Fire.

Fire which is believed to have originated from a defective flue early this morning completely destroyed the handsome country residence of Miss Dora Hays, of this city, and burned up part of the household effects of Mr. Ellis R. Hays, who occupied the residence.

The fire started in the roof and is supposed to have been due to a defective flue, or a spark from the chimney, and Mr. Hays and family were aroused from their slumbers by the light and noise of the flames as the flames ate their way into the interior of the house and soon destroyed it.

As soon as possible after the discovery, the dinner bell was rung and telephone employed in summoning neighbors, and with their aid most of the household effects were removed from the burning residence although in two rooms virtually all contents were lost.

While the flames soon consumed the residence, Mr. Hays, family and neighbors worked rapidly and effectively, so that while some of the household goods were damaged, most of them were saved from the flames.

Insurance was carried on both the house and contents, but in each instance the loss will exceed the insurance. The house was an eight room structure, erected years ago by James Hays, and was located on the Lewis pike, four miles north of this city, at a point where the road makes a turn east toward the Bloomingburg and Midway pike.

The barn and other buildings were some distance away and escaped damage. A few years ago the barn on the farm was destroyed by flames.

A new residence will be constructed without delay, on the site of the structure just destroyed.

WILSON FAR AHEAD IN REXALL VOTE

The Rexall straw vote for Saturday places Wilson 138,430 votes ahead of Hughes, the total vote polled for both men being 844,602 of which Wilson received 491,566 and Hughes 353,136.

The vote of Saturday gives Wilson 295 electoral votes and Hughes 236, and while there is no change in the electoral vote of the previous day, Wilson's popular vote again showed a marked increase.

The vote is divided up as follows: Northern states, Hughes 294,678 and Wilson 287,909. Southern states, Hughes 58,458 and Wilson 203,557.

Five votes were cast at the local Rexall store, Saturday, all for Wilson.

The deceased leaves one sister, Mrs. Elta Wilkins, of New Holland, and one brother, Mr. John Dick, of near New Holland.

Funeral services will be held sometime Wednesday, the hour not yet having been decided.

WHOLE MENAGERIE AT THE OHIO STATE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., November 6. — The directory for students at the Ohio State University has just been issued and a perusal reveals many interesting and amusing facts in connection with the students names. Wilson appears 19 times, while Hughes is to be found but twice, which is no better than the Kaiser can do, for that name also appears twice.

There are four Fords listed and one Junk, while a Hand and a Foote are found in the book. The Browns, Blacks, Blues, Greens and Grays lend plenty of local color to the book, but they are outstripped in number by the old stand-bys, the Smiths, Millers and Jones. A Bird and a House are listed, while a Hunter, a Lyon, a Bear, a Coon, an Eagle and a Lamb seem to be appropriately gathered within the covers.

The directory gives the name, address, telephone number, home address of each student, member of the faculty and university employee. It also contains a list of the colleges, with their faculties, committees, student organizations, fraternities and other items of information in connection with the university.

WANT $200,000 FOR NEW POWER PLANT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, Ohio, November 6.—The Board of Trustees of Ohio State University will ask the state budget commissioner to insert in his budget for the next two years an item for $200,000 to build a new power plant at the state university to relieve the present plant, which is said to be greatly overburdened by the increase in number of buildings now being supplied.

The plant has a normal capacity of about 1850 horsepower but this can be doubled in case of extreme need.

Several new buildings have been opened this year, but before they were opened the plant carried a daily overload of 55 percent. Plans for the new buildings are already being discussed.

On the Eve of Election

Today is the last of the nineteen sixteen presidential campaign. In fact the campaign closed Saturday night so far as the main participants were concerned, President Wilson made his last speech at Shadow Lawn and Judge Hughes closed his campaign in New York City with tremendous political demonstrations.

Most of the noted orators have concluded their speaking tours and are hurrying home to vote many of them, as they have talked during the campaign.

All data obtainable such as straw votes and the like, indicate that the election so far as president is concerned is going to be a close one.

Those who make a business of gathering facts from which may be deduced the trend of public opinion, place both New York and Indiana in the Hughes column but offset the advantage thus given to Judge Hughes by placing heretofore strongly republican states like Ohio, Michigan Illinois and Wisconsin in the Wilson column.

That complete reversal in prediction forms is only one of the matters which shows how completely politicians and forecasters are at sea as to the outcome.

Nearly everyone admits the possibility of a land slide either one way and both sides—the ultra-partisans are claiming in their favor. As yet there is nothing to warrant any such prediction it seems to be now, with the balloting only a few hours away, a neck and neck race.

One thing, however, does seem certain. There is going to be a shifting about of states in the political column.

Another thing clearly indicated is that President Wilson is very much stronger than his party and that Judge Hughes is very much weaker than his party. The voters, from all indications are regarding the election as one of men with political issues completely shelved.

Ohio it seems from the drift disclosed in the straw voting, will cast her electoral vote for the President Wilson.

Illinois, heretofore a republican Gibraltar is in doubt both on account of the strength of the President in the agricultural communities and with the laboring elements. It is also a problem as to how the women are going to vote in Illinois.

It is entirely possible that the people may awake rub their eyes and start about their business Wednesday morning for the first time in history, realizing that a president has been elected who failed to carry either New York or Indiana.

The contest now seems to be so close that one blunder may turn the whole tide into one channel.

During the last few weeks of the campaign the strain of battle has been felt by the people of the nation—business has been somewhat disturbed but not halted and all will welcome the closing of the polls tomorrow night and the absolute end of the most bitterly contested presidential campaign in several decades.

It is barely possible that Illinois will prove to be the pivotal state and that the votes of the women will determine who the next president will be.

No Longer a Joke

The condition of the streets in the business sections of Washington "sumpin' fierce."

It is no use to rail at conditions, to abuse officials, to find fault with laws and regret what might have been "if." It is time for the men of Washington who do things(and there are scores of them) to go calmly and deliberately about the work of bettering conditions.

There is absolutely no reason why our streets should be allowed to remain a day longer in the present condition.

The matter is one of deep humiliation to every loyal Washington citizen. All want conditions improved and all are willing to help. The only thing we need is just one human dynamo to start all the thousands of individual motors now waiting for the current which the suggestion of a practical plan will afford to set them buzzing with effective motion.

It is astounding to think that a city which has given such abundant and conclusive evidence of its progressiveness and its ability to do things, would permit conditions to remain as they are at present, as long as it has.

Sakes alive we must shake off this lethargy and get busy. The matter has long since passed the period when it can be treated as a joke—it's tradey now.

Every body realizes the need for action.

Where is the man who will suggest the plan and lead the militant hosts of Washington citizens?

Poetry For Today

WHERE WE DRAW THE LINE.
 I understand why men at times on all things don't agree,
 A difference of opinion in this life there's bound to be.
 I think I'd want to quit the world if all men thought the same
 And never new ideas from the minds of mortals came.
 But I don't understand at all the reasoning they use,
 Who argue happiness and good are born of drinking booze.

I can be patient with the man who quarrels with my creed,
 Perhaps my style of faith is not the kind his followers need.
 I don't agree and never will with everybody here,
 And yet in many differences men may be sincere.
 But I can't see how any man who daily reads the news,
 Can stand in public and proclaim that joy is born of booze.

I'd pay more heed to him who stands and tells me black is white,
 And say perhaps, down in his heart, this fellow thinks he's right.
 And if a stranger argued long that love sins more than hate,
 I'd say he has a crooked mind, but thinks that it is straight.
 But I can't understand at all how any man can choose
 To argue for his growing sons the benefits of booze.

I am a candidate on the Non-Partisan Judicial ticket for Probate Judge. Service with the Ohio Troops on the Mexican border prevents my reaching home in time to conduct a campaign for re-election. I regret that I cannot call upon you personally to solicit your support as I hoped to be able to do. Being an officer I could resign but I feel that it would better commend me to your support to remain on the border and discharge my military duty to the country than to resign for the purpose of making a campaign for a civil office at home.

ATTACK SHERIFF AND MEN

Industrial Workers In a Gun Battle.

SIX DEAD, MANY WOUNDED

Workers, Refused Landing at Everett, Washington, Fire From Their Boat, the Fire Being Returned With Fatal Effect—Sheriff the First to Fall, Being Badly Wounded—Story of the Fight.

Everett, Wash., Nov. 6.—Six men were killed and scores of others wounded, several seriously, in a fight at the Everett city wharf between 250 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who came here from Seattle on the steamer Verona, and a posse of 150 citizens, headed by Sheriff Don McRae.

The coming of the party of invaders had been announced in messages sent to Everett from Seattle headquarters. A call to Industrial Workers of the World members from all over the state had been issued earlier in the week and the citizens of Everett planned to meet the invaders and deny them privilege of landing.

When the Verona reached the city wharf, Sheriff McRae, who was backed by a posse of deputy sheriffs and citizens, stepped forward and informed the men on the boat that they would not be permitted to land. One of the men, evidently spokesman for the party, began arguing with the sheriff and then made a speech.

Apparently as a signal, the man dropped his hand and armed men on the steamer opened fire on the posse assembled on the wharf.

The first man to fall was Sheriff McRae, seriously injured. One man was killed instantly and in a moment the crowd on shore was panic-stricken. Deputy sheriffs on the wharf quickly rallied their forces, however, and returned the fire of the invaders on the Verona.

Men on the wharf and on the boat were seen to fall and the Verona immediately backed out of the dock and started back toward Seattle.

The dead: C. O. Curtis, formerly Lieutenant Company L, Second Infantry, Washington national guard; Hugo Gerlot, Milwaukee, Wis., seaman; Johnny Looney, Ayr Junction, Mass., laborer; Harry Pierce, Seattle laborer; Gus Johnson, laborer; Felix Baron, laborer.

*Among the seriously wounded is Sheriff McRae.

The trouble between the Industrial Workers of the World and the authorities at Everett has been on for several months and was the outgrowth of a strike of shingle weavers here. After several minor outbreaks of violence during the strike, Sheriff McRae organized the citizens' committee and expelled all members of the Industrial Workers from Everett.

On several occasions small parties of men have attempted to enter Everett, but have been turned back by the sheriff. Last Monday forty-five members of the I. W. W. came from Seattle by steamer, but were met at the wharf by the citizens' posse, loaded into automobiles and escorted to a point south of town, where they were liberated and ordered to leave.

FOR HIS SAKE

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Unless the "hunch" of a veteran lawyer plays true, a slender crippled boy will spend many years behind the bars of Joliet prison for a murder which he says he did not commit and which a hundred persons witnessed. Fear of the man who is said to have stabbed Arthur Gross to death on the night of April 1 last is held responsible for the fact that none of the witnesses appeared to testify for Sanford Rosenbaum, who was arrested for the crime.

It was just as Rosenbaum was being sentenced that Jacob J. Kern, former state's attorney, strolled into the criminal court room for the first time in more than eighteen years. "I hadn't heard the evidence, I hadn't read of the case, but I got a 'hunch' that boy wasn't guilty," says Kern. "I can't explain it, but at the same time I can't get away from my belief. The boy says he merely was a bystander at the stabbing. I believe him. From people in the neighborhood I have learned that several persons saw the actual stabbing and saw the slayer walk away wiping his knife. The witnesses are afraid of this man. He is a terror in the neighborhood, but I am going to put him in prison and free this innocent boy if I can, even if I have to have the witnesses to this crime dragged to the witness stand by their necks."

TWO DIE FROM THEIR FRIGHT

Three Others Killed In Automobile Accidents In Ohio.

Columbus, Nov. 6.—Three men and two children were killed and several persons seriously injured as the result of accidents in Ohio Sunday. The dead: Clarence Sheeley, fireman, Lima, killed in train wreck at Fremont; Philip Wilhelm, brakeman, Lima, killed in train wreck; Louis Beckman, Fremont, killed by automobile; Carrie Wadell, seven, Shawnee, killed by automobile; Myer Rosen, four, killed by automobile in Columbus.

Clarence Sheeley and Philip Wilhelm were scalded and crushed to death and William Sauter probably fatally crushed when two Lake Erie and Western freight trains crashed together head-on a short distance west of Fremont. Frank Ley and Albert Stenman were injured in the same accident, but their injuries are not believed to be fatal. A misunderstanding in orders and a dense fog are believed to have been responsible for the collision. The fatalities and injuries all occurred in the cab of the eastbound engine, which was demolished.

A dozen box cars, two cattle cars and two oil cars were wrecked and most of the stock killed. The wreckage caught fire and the Fremont fire department was called out to extinguish the flames.

Louis Beckman was run down by an automobile in Fremont and died from his injuries without regaining consciousness.

Carrie Wadell, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wadell, was killed near New Straitsville. The child ran in front of the machine, it is said, before Beasie Furnace, who was driving, could stop the car.

With a toy in his hand, Myer Rosen, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rosen, ran from the curbing directly into the path of the automobile driven by J. Roy Welmer at Columbus. The boy sustained a fractured skull, which caused almost instantaneous death.

EXPENSIVE LUXURY

New York, Nov. 6.—Election this fall will cost $50,000,000. Such is the consensus of conservative estimates by political leaders here. Some place the figure twice as high. Only a small part of this expense goes toward electing a president and a vice president. About 75,000 state, county, city and other offices will be filled, or in the case of a few states, have been filled this fall. Two hundred thousand men and women are running for office. Of the fifty millions, about half will be spent by the candidates and their supporters and the other half by the state and municipal governments in preparing for and holding the elections and counting the ballots. In New York state alone the cost of registering voters and conducting the elections will be about $2,500,000.

The $25,000,000 spent in furthering the campaigns of candidates will be divided among postage, telegraph and telephone service, advertising, press agent publicity, speakers' pay and expenses, bands, rent of halls and theaters, clerical help, campaign buttons, badges and banners, rallies and conventions, printing and engraving, and sums, large in the aggregate, given to the hundreds of thousands of minor "workers." It is estimated here the Republican national committee will spend over $2,000,000 and the Democratic national committee over $1,500,000.

THAT SO?

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Hawaii, with its crimson dawns and purple twilights, its wondrous, Waikiki beach, its azure sea and other delights, apparently doesn't appeal to certain members of the postoffice department's force. As witness this announcement: "Because of the many protests of officials against being obliged to live in the enervating climate of Hawaii, the position of postoffice inspector there has been abolished. Hereafter inspectors will be assigned there for special duty of from thirty to sixty days. No one will be obliged to remain there permanently."

DIES IN HIS CELL

Cleveland, Nov. 6.—Alex Ferguson, forty, died in a hospital here after lying ill in a cell at police headquarters for nearly nine hours. Physicians at the hospital say he died from a fractured skull.

JUDGE H. L. FARNEDING.

TO OUR READERS:

Judge H. L. Farneding is before the voters this fall for re-election to the Court of Appeals Bench. We all know Judge Farneding and like him. He has served one term with great credit and satisfaction but aside from that we like him because we know him as a man—as a human being. No one has ever found him wanting in the essentials of courtesy and due regard for the feelings of others, and on the Bench his decisions have been able, courageous and fair. He plays no favorites. The public are entitled to judges of this kind—judges in whom they can have confidence. But what we say of him, however, is in no sense personal in its relation—nor political. With equal propriety and with equal force we say the same of the other two members of the Court, his two associates on the Bench—Judge Kunkle and Judge Allread. There is probably not a Court of Appeals in Ohio that stands higher in the estimation of the people, handles more difficult cases, decides them more promptly or fairly than our own Court as now constituted.

This court is now the court of last resort in nearly all cases. The Constitution of 1912 has made it so. It becomes imperative therefore that the occupants of this bench be lawyers of experience—those who have tried cases before they became judges. We believe Judge Farneding deserving of a second term. This office is not a partisan one, so there can be no politics in this statement.

HOW GOOD THAT MUSTEROLE FEELS!

It Gets to That Sore Spot Like Magic

A-a-h! That's delicious relief for those sore muscles, those stiff joints, that lame back.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard and other home simples.

It does the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster, minus the plaster and minus the blister!

You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and usually the pain is gone. No muss, no bother. Just comforting, soothing relief—first a gentle glow, then a delightful sense of coolness. And best of all, no blisters like the old-fashioned mustard plaster used to make.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

Wilson on Labor

"I am a fierce partisan of the open shop."

Woodrow Wilson, 1909

"The class formed by the labor organizations and leaders is a formidable enemy to equality and betterment of opportunity."

Woodrow Wilson, 1907

Labor unions drag the highest man to the level of the lowest."

Woodrow Wilson, 1905

The usual standard of the laborer in our day is to give as little as he may for his wages."

Woodrow Wilson, 1909

These are the convictions of a Presidential candidate when he was not in public life—when he was not running for office—when he was not looking for votes.

They are the expressions of a scholar, the teacher of political economy, the writer of text-books and histories.

Not the hasty ill-considered opinions of an under-graduate but the deliberate reasoning of a seasoned mind—of a university head.

These are the views that Woodrow Wilson held when he was preparing thousands of young men for their administrative responsibilities, forming their judgment upon the relations between employer and employee, fulfilling his function of interpreter and advisor toward countless students who have since engaged in business for themselves, become executive heads in vast organizations or teachers in turn for another generation of future employers of labor.

These are the opinions which he held when he did not expect to hold office, when it did not advantage him to express any other opinions.

Woodrow Wilson did not claim to become a friend in need to labor until he had need of labor's friendship for his re-election.

Because this course is typical of the man, because it is impossible to know what he really believes or how long he will continue to believe anything he claims to believe, because he is inconsistent and indecisive, we oppose his re-election.

This advertisement is paid for by the Hughes Alliance Reserve—an organization of Democrats, Progressives, Republicans and Independents; working for the election of Charles E. Hughes. Henry J. Cochran, Treas., 2 East 43d Street, New York City.

Hughes on Labor

"There are some who regard organized labor as a source of strife and menace of difficulty; I regard it as a fine opportunity for the improving of the conditions of the workingman."

Charles E. Hughes, 1908

"The missions of labor organizations is one of the finest that any organization of men could guard."

Charles E. Hughes, 1908

"He was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair. He signed fifty-six labor laws (one-third of all passed in the state since 1777), among them many of the best ever enacted in this or any other state. He urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to demand a labor law at an extra session. Human rights has a steadfast and sympathetic upholder in the new justice."

N. Y. Legislative Labor News, 1910

These are not new opinions from the Republican candidate nor a recent estimate concerning him.

Hughes recorded his stand on labor not when a candidate for office, but as a governor of New York soon to retire from political life to become a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, where he expected to remain the rest of his life.

They were the convictions of Charles E. Hughes on the eve of joining the highest tribunal in America, a court of last resort, at a time and in a situation when no possible advantage could accrue to him from any public expression.

No estimate of his fitness to fill the office of President with firmness, fairness and justice can be stronger than the above comment from a review of his career as governor by the organ of the New York Federation of Labor.

He has no need to talk, he has done.

He said what he believed then, he believes what he said now.

Therefore we support the candidacy and the convictions of Charles E. Hughes.

woman had performed another of her feats and he was sure that he was under the voodoo. Then he saw Gloria standing by the stove. She looked so small and so timid that he regained courage. He roared at Gloria and moved toward Nell, Gloria cried: "Stand back!"

Trask was so astonished by her impudence that he laughed.
"Why, you little fluffy pullet, I'll tie you up and drop you in the river!"
"Oh, you will?" said Gloria.
She snatched the poker from the fire. Trask laughed at it. She hit the table with it and sparks flew. She rubbed it on the wooden top of the table and smoke arose. There was a hissing sound. Trask shuddered. Gloria jabbed at him with her red-hot sword. He could feel the searing pain of it before it reached him. When it arrived where he was he was not there. Gloria was a trifle conceited over her success.

And now, what next? She saw the rope in his hand. He had brought it to tie her with. The next idea came. She glowered at Trask.
"You thought you would tie me up, did you? Well, you can just tie yourself up!"
Trask could hardly believe that anyone would be cruel enough to inflict such an insulting injury. But Gloria's arguments were nokes with the poker.

GLORIA'S ROMANCE
Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes
Novelized from the Motion Picture Play of the same name by George Kleine.

SYNOPSIS.
Pierpont Stafford, with his daughter Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. Becoming lost in the overglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater; he has forgotten Gloria. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lola, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her an ally. Freneau takes leave of Gloria. She sees from her window an attack on Freneau and Doctor Royce convinces her it is a delirium. A telegram followed by a letter, comes from Freneau. She replies but her telegrams are returned. She accidentally sees the supposed suicide of Freneau reported in the paper. Gloria swears to find the murderer of her lover. Royce tells what he knows of Freneau to Mr. Stafford. They seek to prevent scandal from enveloping Gloria. She accuses them of conspiracy against her. Gloria sets about to run down Freneau's murderer. Royce warns Mulry to tell Gloria nothing. Gloria calls on Mulry and there sees Lola who is also worried. Gloria's suspicions are aroused. Royce endeavors to show her the difficulty she faces. Gloria goes to David's country home. She meets Mulry who flees at once. Gloria insists on going to Palm Beach. Again she sees Mulry there. He leaves for the North. She is recognized by her one-time captor, the young Indian chief. He tells her that Royce and not Freneau was her rescuer at that time. Gloria attends night court; she sees Mulry there, also the tramp who attacked Freneau. But Judge Freeman releases him. She follows the tramp when he leaves the court and falls into the hands of hold-up men. She finds herself in a low saloon dance hall, and is selected by one of the patrons as his partner. Doctor Royce, however, follows her and when he attempts a rescue, calls down a riot on their heads. The hall is raided and the crowd, including Gloria and Royce, is arrested and taken before Judge Freeman. The newspapers feature Gloria's arrest. Reporters surround the house. Casimir arrives with the child Gloria promised to adopt. She orders Royce to take Casimir's wife to the Stafford home. She follows Trask and lands on a houseboat to hear him accused of Freneau's murder.
She ran to the stove, lifted the lid and set the poker in the red coals. It was a grand idea and she was tremendously enthusiastic. But the poker was not. It was in no hurry whatever. They say that a watched poker never glows. Gloria heard somebody working at the hatch before the poker had attained as much blush as a hardened sinner feels on his cheek at a little mistake.
She heard Trask's footsteps. She

BACK STEPS OF STORE ON FIRE

Fire which was eating its way in to the back steps of the Girard store and would soon have communicated with the interior of the store, was discovered about five o'clock Saturday evening and promptly extinguished by the fire department before any damage resulted.
The fire originated from the burning of refuse in the lot back of the store, and after Mr. Girard had protested against the proximity of the burning of refuse to the building.
The store was filled with smoke and the employees became much alarmed until the location of the fire was ascertained and the fire department reached the scene.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BEER GOING UP

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Canton, O., November 6.—Canton brewers have announced that owing to the increased cost of production the price of beer to retailers will be raised soon. Dealers declare that they cannot raise the price of a drink as five cents is the standard accepted retail price of a glass of beer and that they cannot afford to buy new and smaller glasses, for practically all of them have a large supply on hand. Consequently, they say, it is the dealer who must suffer from the raise in price.

CHANGES ABOUT UNION STATION

Many additional changes are being made about the new union station.

Part of the driveway has been finished and open to the public, and the crushed stone for the remainder of the driveway is in place and the drive is to be finished by rolling during the next ten days.

The old station has been completely dismantled by Contractor Kearney, and the remains have been stacked along the old platform to be hauled away within a short time.

The platform between the D. T. & I. and C. H. & D. tracks is being extended 60 feet further south so it can be used for the express trucks.

Workmen have made some changes in the platform between the two roads over Paint creek, and are now erecting a fence west of the C. H. & D. tracks and extending the fence east of the tracks.

The former passenger station of the D. T. & I. is now ready to move, and the new concrete foundation for the structure has been laid along the D. T. & I. tracks south of the union station about 150 feet.

T. G. Smart in Great Demand as a Biographical Department.

Winchester, Ky. — Colonel T. G. Stuart, who probably knows more people personally than any man in Kentucky, where handshaking is one of the great indoor and outdoor sports, is slowly recovering from an illness that threatened to be mortal.

No matter where Colonel Stuart—the title was conferred by the governor—goes he meets dozens of persons he can slap on the back and call by their first name. He never forgets a face or a name.

At sixteen years of age he edited a paper here and began to become acquainted throughout the state. As an officer in the Kentucky Press association he came in contact with the journalistic fraternity, and through them he acquired other friends.

Local newspapers use the colonel as a biographical department whenever an old resident dies. Trust him to know all the family connections.

SERIOUSLY STRICKEN

Dr. F. E. Wilson, of Jeffersonville, went to Columbus Monday morning for the purpose of bringing back Mr. F. W. Cannon, of Paint township, who has been in the hospital at Columbus for sometime, but who recently took a turn for the worse, and is now very seriously ill with heart trouble.

He wished to be brought home, and his wishes are being carried out.

The Licorice Plant.

The licorice plant resembles a rose with a single green stem, reaches a height of about three feet and bears a small purple star shaped flower. The first year's root growth resembles a loosely twisted string of tow and may run to twenty feet in length. The second year it assumes a woody substance when dry, and the third year it acquires its commercial value. The time for digging the root is the winter, when it is dried and crushed under heavy stones drawn around on it by mules, much as olives are crushed to extract their oil.

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY

THE HUGHES, HERRICK AND WILLIS

COLORED REPUBLICAN CLUB

of Fayette County will hold a grand Republican Rally

TO-NIGHT

MEMORIAL HALL, WASHINGTON C. H.

7 O'clock P. M.

THE SPEAKERS: Prof. E. W. B. Curry, President of Curry College of Urbana, one of the greatest colored orators of the State; Hon. Frank C. Parrett and others.

Everybody Come

and hear the Colored Jubilee Singers.

Pres. Wilson's Policy Of Neutrality.

This policy may not satisfy those who revel in destruction and find pleasure in despair. It may not satisfy the fire-eater or the swashbuckler. But it does satisfy those who worship at the Altar of the God of Peace. It does satisfy the Mothers of the land at whose hearth and fireside no jingoistic war has placed an empty chair. It does satisfy the daughters of this land from whom bluster and brag has sent no loving brother to the dissolution of the grave. If does satisfy the fathers of this land and the sons of this land who will fight for our Flag, and die for our Flag when Reason primes the rifle, when Honor draws the sword and Justice breathes a blessing on the standards they uphold.

WOULD COMBINE OCEAN LINES

London, November 6.—(Correspondent of The Associated Press)—Representatives of thirteen of the trans-Atlantic steamship lines, in a meeting held in London, listened with great attention to arguments in favor of the proposed International Commission by David Lubin, of New York and California, who succeeded in getting through Congress resolutions endorsing the idea, which has for its object the steadying of prices of staples through the fixing of freight rates on ocean bulk traffic.

Mr. Lubin has succeeded in interesting the big shipping men here in his plan, among them being Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, who is a member of a wealthy shipping family. The meeting was called by Sir Norman Hill, a great Liverpool shipping magnate. Among the lines represented were the American, Allen, Atlantic Transport, Associated Lines, Canadian Pacific, Cunard, Dominion, Furness Withy, Harrison, Leyland, White Star and Wilson.

Mr. Lubin's address was followed by questions from practically all attending that revealed general interest in the plan. The questioners who feared the result of such a strict control of the lines as to compel them to conform to special rates, Mr. Lubin pointed to the benefits sustained by railroads in the United States from the Interstate Commerce Commission's rules.

"Before the Interstate Commerce Commission came into being the price of the leading American railway stock on your market here were as uncertain as those of common wildcat schemes offered to the public," he said. "But the stabilizing effect of the Interstate Commerce Commission's control has, as you know of your own personal knowledge, converted them into the highest gilded securities."

He possesses a remarkable memory and is familiar with happenings during the Hidalgo revolution for Mexican independence from Spain in 1810-21.

ELEVENTH HOUR LIE

Laboring men should pay no attention to the circulars signed by the Republican Committee saying that I am opposed to the Workmen's Compensation Law. I am not only a staunch friend of the law, but a staunch friend of labor. The circular is false in every particular, issued with malicious intent to save Murrell, the lobbyist candidate.

The Workmen's Compensation Law is the finest piece of legislation ever enacted in behalf of the man who toils and I am now and always will be its friend and supporter.

Do me the favor of denouncing the malicious falsehood and tell every man that labors that a vote for DAN T. HISER is a vote for a real sincere friend of the law, and who, if elected, will defend it by vote and voice against every form of attack.

DAN. T. HISER,

Democratic Candidate for State Senate, 5-6th Dist. Greenfield, O.
